

HOW CAN YOU KNOW WHERE YOU'RE GOING IF YOU DON'T KNOW WHERE YOU'VE BEEN?

OUR OVERVIEW

Russell Standard offers both new construction and maintenance of virtually any project, from private driveways to interstate highways. Additionally, Russell Standard is a manufacturer of asphalt materials, emulsions and coatings.

In the more than 80 years since Niles E. Russell founded Russell Standard Corporation, the company has become a leading industry innovator, introducing new and proprietary paving products, processes and machinery to address the needs of modern road construction.

OUR HISTORY

In the spring of 1929, Niles E. Russell founded Russell Standard Corporation to distribute municipal supplies throughout southwestern Pennsylvania. Within two years, Russell Standard began operating as a general contractor when they were awarded contracts to expand several municipal parks.

By the late 30's, Russell was building rural roads to facilitate the transportation of agricultural goods to and from local farms. Soon after, the company began distributing liquid asphalt for road building. In the following decades, paving crews, hot mix asphalt plants, and liquid asphalt emulsion plants were added to the Russell family of products and services.

Niles E. Russell operated his company with an acute awareness that only the most reliable contractors would consistently be awarded new projects. That understanding became the foundation of the company's work ethic. The success and growth of Russell Standard Corporation can largely be attributed to our adherence to that principle.
